General Comment

AI needs strong regulation and laws in place to even think about considering investment in AI. The last few years have been a mess of fake images, deepfaked porn, fake art, and fake audio. I have no faith in the administration's ability to handle such a dangerous and harmful technology. Nothing has been done within the past few years and especially not the last few months. How can companies protect their IPs and Copyrights if anyone can fake images or leaks to manipulate social media and the free market? The US is woefully unprepared for such dangerous technology that they have greatly ignored until recently. This will ruin jobs, this will ruin lives, this will ruin companies, this will ruin this country.

I strongly oppose the use and adoption of AI as it's aspirations are built upon sheer greed and carelessness.
