General Comment

The plans that the tech industry has for AI are nothing more than a gross violation of citizen rights. If left unchecked and unregulated the tech industry will have an unfair advantage across multiple industries and hurt small businesses. They dream of a future where solely two entities exist: the company and the consumer. I implore you to protect small businesses and keep copyright protections in place. Individuals have the right to refuse to lend their work to a machine that will steal it and their business. Without copyright, the individual has no incentive to innovate or create. This will only hurt our country.
