General Comment

I'm a fiction writer reaching out to you in regards to my concern over generative AI's rampant abuse of US copyright. Companies like OpenAi blatantly steal the copyrighted material of hardworking artists and writers without their permission and without compensating them. This is incredibly demoralizing to small artists struggling to make a living and destroys their incentive to create the art and entertainment that the public loves and enjoys so much.

I'm thereby asking you to stand with humanity and protect artists against generative AI's copyright infringement within your AI Action Plan.

Thank you.
