General Comment

I am a writer who is sickened, saddened, and repulsed by the proliferation of large language models as mythical "generative AI." Multinational corporations have now spent years illegally and unethically plagiarizing my work and that of thousands of other creators to fatten their own profit margins on technology that is simultaneously inaccurate, wasteful, and unwanted.

Do not allow the further proliferation of this disastrous technology. Every human who creates is damaged by what technocrats are trying to do right now. Stop this.
