General Comment

I am writing to you to speak on behalf of working artists and creatives, those of us who are writers or painters, modelers, designers. The threat of AI is an ever looming attempt to wipe us from existence. This technology only exists because those with enough money and resources decided to take everyone's work and place it into an uncaring blender of pixels and text to churn out attempted replacements. This would not exist without our exploitation. I am a working artist and I see the outcome of this technology on concept artists who design some of our largest cultural impacting creations, how it puts them out of work or makes one artist try to make up for a lack of a team with plagiarized garbage. The hate for AI is ever present from everyone in my daily life, they see it as a forced intrusion on their lives, and see its owners as grifters and thieves. The only ones who say otherwise are in on the grift themselves. This technology is a pit that people throw money and others livings into just to try and replace what little we have and force the last bit of humanity that dares to dream into a soul crushing machine meant to take away our ability to make a living with our own creations.

They must never be allowed to be copyrighted or use copyrighted works to create any information to be profited off of. The entire ordeal has been based off of deceit and exploitation. I know writing this that whoever you are if you are actually reading these and not just filtering them through one of these money wasting machines, that you have already likely decided to end us. I know, so many have made it clear that they wish for the act of creation to die. I have seen it, the dollar signs in your eyes as you contemplate killing us slowly by starving us off so you can hold a monopoly on culture. But it won't work, so much money has been spent on these data farms and they're pulling back on investing in them entirely basing their model on venture capital and have never made a profit. This will simply lead to a downturn where everything turns to worthless mush and eventually from the ashes people will have to relearn how to actually make anything from their own effort again long after we are gone. It will take time to end us, and even longer for humanity to move on from this wasted era when we are gone. To approve open-ai or any other ai based generative ai start up shell of information laundering of anything is to just further sustaining the parasite that you have continued to nurture. I say all of this knowing that I do not trust any one reading any of this to do anything right. I assume and I know you will do us wrong. This is not even a plea at this point. I know, we all know you will disappoint us all, you will falter and you will fail us. This will lead to a downturn in the quality of all entertainment, and media and information, the error rate of these LLM's and the homogenized filtering of images, video and sound will be ground up into a congealed mass of filth meant to end the soul of myself and all of my peers and eventually you. I have no faith in you, and you will have your chance to prove me wrong. Push back against this overvalued farce that disempowers everyone except for those who hold control over its systems. We do not need it, we do not want it, it is a dead end. It is a waste to support AI in this manner but I know you will most likely send us all into the slow cultural death spiral you crave for with all of your might.
