General Comment

Any action or investment in AI must follow the copyright laws of this country.

Generative AI has proven itself to be a technology that steals from artists, consumes vast resources including clean water, and produces mostly garbage work. A country that values its creative workers, its thinkers, and its humanity would not invest in it.

But since we don't seem to live in that country, I am demanding that copyright be respected and followed.

Don't steal my stuff.

Signed,

Jessica Lévai (she/her)
