General Comment

I wonder what percentage of the voter base allowing the people who are pushing this legislation to stay in office actually wants not just all human creative endeavors but all aspects of life be overtaken by AI. Anything that eases the way for these inhuman corporations to suppress genuine artistic integrity through the facsimile that is AI is a betrayal of not just "American" values, but human ones as well. The fact that this plan is allowed to even be proposed when it makes 99% of people's lives objectively worse while protecting the purely greed-driven interests of the 1% is despicable, but I suppose not entirely surprising for this country. Be prepared, and enjoy the abject cruelty of your "victories" while they last.
