General Comment

As a freelance digital artist, my career is put at risk by the the rampant use of artificial intelligence. Corporations continue to choose AI instead of hiring an artist, and that is the goal of the creator of these AI models. They want to replace us, replace real human creativity and passion to save more pennies by the year's end.

Not to mention, the use of other artist's and HEAVILY copyrighted materials that most artists would get in trouble for using commercially are just paraded around as if they own it.

Not to mention the amount of REAL people that are within these models, with the advent of even video AI, photographic and even video evidence in courts would be able to be put into question. It's going to be a scary world if this isn't addressed.
