General Comment

AI does not have a place in the future of America. It is merely hype with nothing real behind it. AI can never replace real human intelligence or creativity. Furthermore, you CANNOT allow AI to bypass copyright restrictions to train on the works of real artists. This is, as I see it, an affront to humanity and to art itself. Artists deserve to have their work protected, not fed into a machine that spits out a lesser copy. Allowing AI companies to bypass copyright restrictions would be truly disgusting and an insult to everyone who has ever honestly produced art.
