General Comment

Hey, as a creative this will be absolutely horrible for my industry and the industry of my friends and peers.

It has been proven time and time again that AI simply cannot mimic human art fully, no matter how much you train it.

It is unfair and unlawful for other people to be forced to have their art scraped by AI and then lose out on every future opportunity to work because of that.

Also, AI is really not that groundbreaking or helpful. It's being used to make every aspect of normal life more tedious, impersonal, and less human. There are so many things to invest in that could actually move humanity forward, WITHOUT burning up the planet too.

Do not pass this, under ANY circumstances.
