General Comment

AI, just like music, movies, prints, and any sort of media and literature needs to have the same rules applied to it. Copyright should be applied to any usage of AI, as it grows by scrapping for information created by other sources without asking explicit consent from those sources if they want to be scrapped or not. In order to prevent AI from stealing that hard earned work of those who make a living off of what they create, laws need to be put into place to curb how AI is used and developed. Do not let this plan succeed.
