General Comment

This plan to destroy personal protections will cause devastation to republicans and democrats alike, and will hinder private sector technology development as these AI companies will have to endlessly litigate with foreign countries and companies as their indiscriminate scraping policy steals creative work from international sources. This is a completely backwards plan that will make AI development in the US grind to a stop.

Generative AI is already at a very useful point without having to risk constant legal battle and massive loss of capital. There is no reward for removing regulations.
