General Comment

There is no "AI Dominance" because most people don't even understand what AI is in the first place. It has some promise as a TOOL for people to use but Generative AI has already earned a reputation of being cheap and untrustworthy, frankly because it is. It's mostly been used to trick and take advantage of others all across the internet and the globe. It has no place in ANY part of our government and should not be given any special treatment whatsoever. If anything there should be MORE restrictions against it.
