General Comment

AI-Generated content is like an artistic biohazard that makes whatever it's used on look cheap and lower than low quality because no real work was put into it. At least something bad but still made by real humans looks better than anything made by AI-Generated imagery.

It's also a hotbed of plagiarism. If this country has any respect for the arts, AI-Generated imagery, "deepfakes", and ai-generated voices would not be funded. It should be at the very least, disavowed.
