General Comment

All currently so-called "AI" companies in America rely on stealing the intellectual property of patriotic, hard-working americans to fuel their woke agenda.

The top priority for the administration and anyone else should be forcing so-called "AI" companies to play by the same copyright rules as everyone else, including paying appropriate fees, using appropriate services, and otherwise adequately compensating those whose data they have previously been stealing and malpurposely appropriating. If they can't afford to do that, they should go out of business so America First companies can step up to the plate with a fairer deal instead.
