General Comment

Although I believe that AI is a useful tool in modern day, there needs to be more strict restrictions on how it's implemented and what data it derives from. In art we own our intellectual property and AI is a direct threat against an artist's autonomy. With other programs like writing and development infrastructure, there is a direct impact on jobs requiring these workers, and replacing them with automated systems that cannot inferior human needs. AI can be a tool if properly maintained and regulated. Creating laws and processes that limit its ability to overpower the everyday person is vital. There are things in this world that we can automate with AI and can be upgraded to replace positions that are unnecessary for human interference. Please place restrictions on this powerful tool. Peoples livelihoods are being affected by the lack of restrictions in place. There are AI applications and deepfake technologies that impact everyday citizens in negative and dangerous ways. Thank you for reading.
