General Comment

As a concerned citizen: I take AI being given unfettered access to copywrited materials an offense to the American public.

Tech companies being given rights to steal and use material without compensation is a theft of the manpower and creativity of the citizens of the USA.

If a private citizen were to do the same they would be at risk of legal problems

If you claim to support jobs of the people, please stand for the rights of everyday hardworking American craftsfolk and artisans. They deserve protection from he unhealthy overreach of big tech both in our borders and out.
