General Comment

A machine stealing from the people for the benefit of a corporation is dystopian. There's a human behind that machine stealing, if you wouldn't allow them without the mask of a machine to steal then don't allow them with the machine to steal.

And let's be real, this AI isn't going to be used to better our lives. It's going to be the big brother everyone is fearing. The people are the governments profit, that's all this machine is going to collect data for. The rich get richer of the labor of the poor. How long until the government starts using AI to sway the American people against other people in foreign countries? Into wanting and justifying war?

For once, care about the people you're stealing from.
