General Comment

I find three idea that generative AI should be granted the right to steal abhorrent. The idea that these companies should be allowed to take everything with out compensating others, is a flagrant violation of the LAW. AI steals the livelihood of my fellow Americans and renders the power of others to share three work impossible. For these companies, once the greatest champions of copyright to be saying it must be destroyed is telling. It is hypocrisy at its finest. I object to idea that it must be free to steal the work of others to flourish in the most strenuous way possible.
