General Comment

I am deeply disturbed by the idea of allowing Open AI or any other AI company to circumvent copyright, effectively looting the cultural heritage of this country so some AI company can get rich training software to copy the works of others.

I feel that this action plan is moving in the wrong direction, hurting our artists and musicians and other creatives. Generative AI simply has not produced anything of value; it would need to offer us far more to actually justify any action such as the above Action Plan suggests.
