General Comment

I believe it is important to protect the rights of the individuals and organizations that create art. Using their work to train AI without permission and/or compensation will damage the artist community irreparably. Artists can only exist with enough compensation that they can live, and AI taking their work to regurgitate something else will eventually harm everyone involved--The artist first, then the AI itself, regurgitating its own prompts at an unsustainable rate. I know the issue is much bigger than just this one concern. As an artist myself, though, that point is something that matters to me in particular.
