General Comment

AI technology such as what is being pushed by this action plan scrapes content and creative works indiscriminately including from those who did not consent to have their creative works used in such a manner. What incentive will there be for creative to engage in their artistic pursuits if their work is at risk of becoming fodder for to "train" off of and produce subpar slop from? Not only does the technology engage in blatant theft, it will also destroy creative industries by asking them to buy into a technology that will just regurgitate whatever you feed it. Please do not let this become our creative standard.
