General Comment

This is blatantly hostile to skilled artists. Encouraging the use of generative AI encourages the stealing of labor; whether it be by training these AI on artists' work to replicate without the application of skill or permission of the artist, or be it by replacing jobs in creative fields with programs that merely respond to prompts without an understanding of what makes art truly art. This plan appeals only to the egoistic entrepreneur who thinks that AI is a get-rich-easy tool, and that paying artists fairly is an inconvenience.
