General Comment

As an American Citizen, I do not see how 'AI', as is used most by such corporations as OpenAI and Google, has any meaningful place in our world or laws. Especially not when it relies on stealing the independant works of so many not just within the U.S, but around the world, and consequently their livelihoods. Even outside the realms of data harvesting, applications such as writing, voicework, music, all perform the same or similar harms with 'AI'. All of this without even mentioning the serious dangers it poses for environmental health.
