General Comment

I believe this "venture into the future" holds no value to the people, and only seeks to harm everyone. "Artificial Intelligence" has been overly hyped up as some deus ex machina that knows everything, when this is not the case. It only serves to steal from the people, to splice and sew their words and images into impractical imitations of them. As an artist myself, I find the idea that the people who spearhead this simple pattern recognition software will be given free reign to steal whatever they want to create a software that will only steal even more.

This is a machine that profits from the theft of the American people. This will only serve to provoke yet more strife and pain in the people. Please do not go through with this.
