General Comment

This is a terrible idea that is based on theft of the creativity of artists everywhere. It is absolutely disrespectful and not to mention illegal. It should remain illegal. What these companies want to do is to be allowed free rein to thievery. They are thieves asking to be allowed to commit robbery. If these tech companies want to use people's work for their AI then they should pay hefty licenses from those artists. You must not allow the tech companies to steal from artists. You must force these tech companies to respect the copyrights and rights of artists who work themselves to the bone to create their vision.
