General Comment

I do not believe AI holds a place in the future of the United States.

AI steals from my livelihood and my industry as a United States citizen and artist, and actively profits off of that theft by swindling stupid investors into bankrolling technology that isn't even what it claims to be. It's not artificial intelligence, it is statistical modeling designed to invent information based off of previous data it has taken in, it isn't sentient, it makes no decisions and has no agency, and proponents who claim otherwise greatly misrepresent what the technology can do or how it can be used to protect the interests of American citizens or American capital.

And if the goal here is to remove the "guardrails", otherwise known as copyright law, then the government is sanctioning not only the theft of individuals copyrighted material and intellectual property, but the intellectual property of corporate America.
