General Comment

Regulation of AI Training Data is needed FAR MORE than giving a company Carte Blanche to steal the creativity of Americans for their own profit. Do not allow OpenAI to bypass copyright restrictions, and deny them the ability to violate copyright law as they see fit in order to profit off of the work of the people who actually create said works.

OpenAI may argue, and has done such previously, that they will not be able to exist without free access to everything. I'd say that if a company cannot exist without wholesale theft, then it should not exist.
