General Comment

I am an artist. This is literally going to steal my livelihood away from me. Not only that but it is blatant copyright infringement that steals from an artist hard labor. It has no place in our society, and honestly? How can you proclaim we have the greatest innovators, artists, musicians, minds, if you keep feeding everyone through a machine. Where is your sense of pride in creation? Where is the joy in taking something from scratch and crafting it with your bare hands? We used to boast about our illustrators, our designers and thinkers. This is a get rich quick scheme that will ultimately fail, and anyone supporting ai will come out looking like court jester fools (it also looks like utter garbage, I mean seriously, apparently you all need your eyes checked, maybe some arts education while you're at it). Not every piece of art is meant to make money, but rather to feed the soul. Pick up a pencil, gather some paper, and see for yourself.
