General Comment

It is imperative our government protect our property--the property of millions of hardworking Americans who write, draw, and create, fueling so many vital American industries. Why should one group of companies get to steal from others, without gaining consent or paying for use of our property, and breaking IP and copyright law? That's simply not fair. Please ensure the future prosperity of all Americans and creatives. Your first priority MUST be using whatever is developed ethically and sustainably, to make it something that can be legally used. You cannot simply bulldoze laws you find inconvenient that exist to protect others' rights and property, and steal whatever you like.
