General Comment

Hello,

I am a humble artist and citizen of this country. I am very concerned at the seemingly unregulated growth and implementation of AI technology in our country. There is reckless copyright and privacy infringement thanks to AI being trained on data people did not give explicit consent to. A simple Terms of Service is not enough for this gross violation of people's rights. I understand the need of AI for developing new and innovative technologies, but there is nothing innovative or necessary about exploiting people's privacy. As an artist, I am even more appalled at the sheer amount of human artists being exploited for AI art generators. I am worried that the current government, in its haste to sustain and enhance America's AI dominance and to compete with other nations in the development of AI, is neglecting the works of human artists and potentially ignoring long-standing legal protections afforded to the creations of said human artists.
