General Comment

AI is not part of the future of America. This country was built on innovation, freedom, and the American Dream of building a good life through hard work and creativity. AI undermines every one of those principles. AI companies steal ideas and do not compensate the people who created them and own them. They use these stolen ideas to train products that will be sold back to us. They're inserting themselves between producers and consumers so they can steal profits that rightfully belong to creators. Don't make intellectual theft legal. Protect American innovation by stopping AI companies from stealing data!
