General Comment

GENERATIVE AI is a waste of time and energy, it can't even do anything that a person with 1/100 of the energy consumption and a couple hours worth of practice can do better and more entertainingly. It's a big waste of space and time to look mildly average which is pretty lackluster to be backing, especially since it's probably gonna be used to make mildly juvenile videos of politicians kissing each other or stealing from 7/11.
