General Comment

I am an artist and have spent my whole life honing my skills. I have a degree and work professionally. If AI is allowed to use my work and the work of other artists like mine without compensation it will mean the end of our field, the end of my profession.

We deserve compensation and notice our works are in use. Copyright has existed far longer than AI.

In addition, creation is one of the things that sets humanity apart. It's what's special about us. It's an enjoyable pastime and an important mode of communication from one human to another.

Giving that skill, that power, that enjoyment to a non-sentient program and making it even harder for people to make art and sustain their livelihoods is stupid and senseless beyond measure- especially in a time when communication and cooperation with each other will be more and more vital.

Please do not allow AI to ignore copyright laws.
