General Comment

Training AI on copyrighted or trademarked material is intellectual property theft, period.

If I can request an AI bot to make a song that imitates living acts like Queens of the Stone Age or Kendrick Lamar, or a picture in the style of living artists like Kara Walker or Alan Moore, it's directly stealing those people's work.

AI should never be used to steal people's intellectual property that's protected by copyright, trademark and more.

AI products should also NEVER become copyrightable.
