General Comment

AI is reprehensible for a number of reasons:

- * Ecological impact is immense. In addition to the energy consumption, enormous amounts of freshwater resources are consumed to cool data centers for these AI things.
- * AI is entirely dependent on theft of creators' works, both big and small. It produces work of no artistic merit.
- * AI steals jobs from talented artists, coders, and almost everyone.
- * AI is actively worsening the Internet, spreading misinformation everywhere. The spread of AI-generated articles with outright incorrect information is a big problem, as well as poorly-created AI summaries.

If anything, AI should be outlawed, or at the very least, forced only to work off of datasets gathered with informed consent.
