General Comment

It is absurd that big tech is getting away with the sheer amount of copyright infringement and digital piracy they are doing to "train" their AI models. OpenAI, Meta, Microsoft, Stability AI, and others have admitted to illegally scraping servers and torrenting copyrighted works. They say that they "need" to do this while individual American citizens have been fined or even jailed for less.

AI is another gear in the Big Tech Censorship machine. They need to reigned in, and made sure that AI is NOT used in ANY executive manner.
