General Comment

Absolutely inexcusable. We can't find the funding to keep libraries open but we want to de-regulate this LLM slop? No. The American public cannot afford this kind of short sighted nonsense. Any attempts at removing barriers to protect actual authors, designers, artists, etc. are unacceptable and certainly not to benefit some tech billionaires.

Where will the servers come from? How will they be maintained? Where will all the money for this come from? How is this good for ANYONE except the people who own "AI"?
