General Comment

Currently, our nation does not have robust frameworks for ensuring that AI development occurs in a responsible and sustainable way. AI currently operates under a framework of theft and copyright violation, and I believe that this will only exacerbate the issue of illegal development and usage. This is a danger to American jobs and clearly a scheme cooked up by wealthy oligarchs with no loyalty to the American people who care only for their own dollar. I am strongly opposed to this and believe it is antithetical to fostering true American innovation or bolstering real American industries or creativity. It makes our nation look inept on the world stage to be so reliant on AI and to flounder around without even having any plan except to cede more and more power to a handful of individuals.
