General Comment

As an American artist who has been already dealing with the scalping and salvaging of artwork for the “sake” of AI, I find myself strongly opposed to this. I’ve witnessed AI profiting off other artists without their knowledge and compensation, harming American businesses that put their focus in art related industries just to start. AI, unrestricted and unregulated is dangerous and overhyped - and needs further regulations and consideration before pushing the limits can even be considered. As AI and this plan stands, I don’t see it having a future in the US and I am strongly against it.
