General Comment

I believe this law will only hurt human artists, animators, and writers because this would an ai program to steal their work and use it without any compensation for the real people who actually put in their blood, sweat, and tears into their work. To let something that spits on the very concept of creativity steal the creative works of real people from around the world is an insult to everyone who has ever created any form of art or writing. Listen to those who put real effort into their work and don't let any ai steal the work of the real artist.
