General Comment

Generative AI models require enormous amounts of data to train—they steal the art and effort of tens of MILLIONS of honest, hardworking American artists and writers, and put it into a machine to fuel profits for corporate bigwigs and destroy the livelihood of the very people it stole from. There is NO ethical use of existing generative AI models. Law MUST be strengthened to protect artists, writers, and more from the plagiarism and theft committed on a massive scale by OpenAI and other such companies. These companies cannot be allowed to continue their scam on the American people.
