General Comment

AI profits off of theft, and its advocates have done a piss-poor job of trying to convince me that this isn't the case. It should have no place in the future of the US, and, gee, I don't know, as a human being I also find it hard to support something that directly sabotages the livelihoods of artists who have worked hard - like, you know, ACTUALLY worked - to hone and perfect their respective crafts. AI is the lazy way out, and it literally &^% on what I thought was supposed to be the American ideal of hard work being recognized and rewarded. Please stop &^% all over people for the sake of your mindless, petty greed. Thank you.
