General Comment

Do not let this plan go through. Anyone who has been paying attention to AI knows and understands full well that generative AI cannot function without stealing and scraping human-made text and media. This plan would blatantly allow OpenAI, Google, and its ilk to bypass copyright laws in the name of "progress" and put the creators that they steal from out of a job. Do not let this plan pass because the things that humans create will always be far more valuable than what a computer can hallucinate.
