General Comment

AI is devastating net negative for culture and history. It destabilizes copywrite, devalues artwork and puts art in the hands of griffers and thieves too lazy to develop the skills, acumen, moral fiber and wherewithal to actually become an artist. At an educational level, it completely undermines critical thinking and student proactivity, enabling cheating, laziness, and half-wit thought. Not to mention it is woefully inaccurate about most things because it can't be expected to even accurately understand or even parse data. It is completely useless, and equally as useless as the feckless idiots who promote and develop it.

Do not allow AI, do not condone it, do not use it, and do not give it any leeway.

Let the AI companies and grifter parasites that run them starve.
