General Comment

Large Language Models are not the future for America. Companies like OpenAI do not need protection. No other company or industry is allowed to STEAL other people's intellectual property. The tech industry needs rules and regulation because they will not be able to regulate themselves. In addition the AI hype is already dying down. There is no reason to given them free rein because quite frankly they provide no real intrinsic value. They know this! Which is why they want the ability to STEAL other peoples hard work. Do not give them the ability.
