General Comment

So-called AI as offered by OpenAI and the like is founded on theft. Theft. Stolen work to teach a machine to regurgitate, and the creator of said work receives no payment for the time and effort that went into the work. This violates copyright law, fair use laws, and legality aside, is destroying the planet. We don't need it. It's the equivalent to giving monkeys a typewriter but with the added cost of an early death.
