General Comment

This is an anonymous agent that works with several companies. I am here to comment that they state that they will not recognize this order. Any future effort to infringe on the intellectual property or copyright that they own will lead to future legal action. They believe this is a gross misuse and breach of the protections previously granted to them by the US.

Furthermore, there is an obvious and ethical complication that arises from this order. They believe that this order will be used for malicious misinformation and slander. This includes promotion of fraudulent services or products, profiting off of intellectual property that one does not own, misrepresentation of products and services provided by others, and the ability to use the order as a "legal loophole" for criminal activity.

There is also ethical concerns involving the generation of child pornography.

We are against this order, but we also warn that we will begin heavily prosecuting those that abuse this order. This is not limited to individuals, but any group or organization that we find at fault.

We implore a more neutral agreement to be recognized, where rights-holders can agree to have their property used in the generation of "AI" content. The rights-holders will be able to absolve the agreement with third parties if they find the content generated offensive or against their agreement.
