General Comment

I'm here despite knowing this is a waste of time and nobody in the government cares about what the public wants anymore. In my opinion, the country is finished. All that's left is to survive until it collapses. On the off chance anyone is actually listening, AI is a dead end and a bill allowing them to steal anything and everything is absolutely insane. The future is NOT AI. It probably never will be, but definitely won't arise from machine learning. Do not allow this to happen.

The only silver lining will be when the bubble crashes and all these fools lose their shirts.
