General Comment

AI bots have has stolen our work, and the work of our colleagues to train Gen-AI models. They regularly scrape our publication with no compensation, bypassing our ROBOTS.TXT settings and firewall blocks. This has done explicit harm to us and the writers who work with us, and continues to undermines the hard work of the many people in the field. At the same time, it's done irreparable harm to the public's overall ability to ensure reliable, sourceable information for factual reporting, and damaged the public trust in the greater anime media.

Generative AI is theft and does nothing to ensure prosperity, security, or even stability for anybody. Rather, it harms all of us in the field directly, using the materials stolen directly from us to destroy our very livelihood while spitting out barely coherent lies. You cannot allow AI firms to steal from us with impunity.
